Deaths On Virginia Streets & Highways Exceed 1,000

RICHMOND – Deaths on Virginia highways and streets passed the 1,000 mark this week end, Wayne A. Whitham, secretary of transportation and public safety, announced today.

Eleven fatalities were reported on Sunday(Oct. 29)which raised the state's total to 1,008, 21 more than this date last year.

"Despite improved design of highways and vehicles; installation of more effective signs, lights, guardrails, and safety belts; and the efforts of our enforcement and safety officials, the death toll in Virginia has exceeded the 1,000 mark for the ninth consecutive year," Whitham said.

"It is alarming that fatalities have risen so sharply, with 178 pedestrian fatalities, 13 more than last year on this date; 56 motorcycle fatalities, an increase of 21; and 9 bicycle fatalities, four additional deaths.

"If we would drive defensively at all times, we need never again reach the 1,000 fatality mark on Old Dominion highways," Whitham said.

"From the habit of never starting your engine until both the shoulder and seat belts are latched. Always concentrate on proper and polite driving. Enroll in a defensive driving course, it offers valuable information to any age driver."

TIPS ON QUITTING
CIGARETTES

1. Pick a Q (Quit) Day.
2. Switch to a low tar-nicotine brand, and begin to cut down BEFORE Q Day.
3. Keep a supply of substitutes: handy mints, gum, celery, carrot sticks.
4. Quit on Q Day; use substitutes when the urge to smoke is strong: keep busy; pamper yourself with special meals; drink plenty of water; exercise.
5. Renew your resolve daily. Think over the health hazards of cigarettes.
6. Plan a treat for yourself with the money you used to spend on cigarettes.

1973 Easter Seal Child Selected

An 8-year-old Rockingham County boy has been selected the State Easter Seal Child for 1973 by the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Incorporated, of Virginia.

He is J. J. Smith, who lives with his family, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith and two orothers, 12-year-old Bill and 13-year-old Tony in rural Elkton, Va.

Born with spina bifida and confined to a wheel chair, J. J. attends the second grade at Shenandoah Elementary School, is an avid camper, and is very fond of his pet dog "Spunky."

He attended Camp Easter Seal last summer, was voted the "Outstanding Camper" for his cabin, and was recognized during "Indian Night" – one of the favorite programs at Camp Easter Seal.

J. J. will represent thousands of handicipped children in Virginia who benefit from Easter Seal services each year. He will officially launch this year's campaign on March 1st, when he presents Governor Holton with a sheet of colorful Easter Seals.

The Easter Seal Society is dependent upon public support to foster its work of providing rehabilitation services to children and adults with all types of cropping disorders.

State Farm Bureau Resolutions Committee Opens 2-Day Session

The Virginia Farm Bureau State Resolutions Committee opens a two-day policy development session at Natural Bridge Thursday.

The committee, made up of county presidents, will consider resolutions approved by 86 county Farm Bureaus. These will be evaluated and consolidated into resolutions to be offered to the VFB convention in Roanoke, Nov. 14-17.

Among the issues to be considered will be financing of local government, environmental issues, state and local taxes, as well as state and federal agricultural programs, according to Alex Hamilton, VFBF director of public affairs.

Commodity groups have expressed special concern over legislative issues pertaining to marketing.

Clarence L. Tardy, VFBF vice president, has been appointed resolutions committee chairman by VFBF President Robert B. Delano.

Mason Carbaugh, commissioner of the Virginia Department of Agriculture and Commerce, will be the speaker at a dinner Thursday night. The meeting will start at 1 p.m. Thursday, and is scheduled to end Friday noon.

Hamilton said issues will first be considered by subcommittees Thursday afternoon, and then offered to the full committee for a vote.

Annual Income Questionnaires

Until Public Law 91-588 was passed, the Administrator of Veterans Affairs was required by law to require each pensioner, who was not a child, to submit an annual income questionnaire. The law now permits the Administrator to exempt pensioners who have attained age 72 and who have received pension during 2 consecutive years from the requirement. As a result, the total number of annual income questionnaires has been reduced almost 50%, from nearly two million last year to approximately 1 million this year.

A notice will be included with the October check dated November 1 to those 72 year old persons, in lieu of the annual income questionnaire. They will be informed that although they will no longer be sent a questionnaire, the income limits prescribed by law continue to apply and of the necessity of advising the Veterans Administration of any changes in their income or dependency status that could affect their entitlement to VA benefits.

To begin with, our Ford Torino is the solid mid-size car.
Why quit when you're ahead?

Maybe "swinger" is getting to be an old word, but that feeling is built right into Ford Gran Torino Sport. Adding special bucket seats and a vinyl roof attracts even more nice looks. That kind of attention is important to a girl.

Being on the road a lot makes a good, comfortable ride pretty necessary. A car's got to stand up to the road and take the strain of heavy driving. Ford Gran Torino does.

Groceries, laundry, kids, dogs, vacations, visits...you expect a lot from a family car. It's got to be the right size, the right price. And you want to be proud of its looks. That's why a Ford Torino Wagon is a perfect family car.

Basics. Nothin' too fancy. But not just plain old "plain." Good looks, good room, good power with a reasonable price tag. That's Ford Torino.

All 1973 cars must meet Federal Emissions Standards before sale. See your Ford Dealer for details.

YOUR FORD TEAM WANTS TO MAKE YOU HAPPY.
